

INDEX OF CHANGES

February 2016

- Enfacare RTU will no longer be available in the 32 oz container, they will offer 8 oz bottles in a 6-pack or 2 oz bottles in a 8-pack.
- Similac Alimentum Powder will change to a 12.1 oz can and the reconstituted amount will be 87 fl oz.
- Label change for Similac NeoSure (all NeoSure products), Similac for Diarrhea (Only RTF available) and Similac Alimentum (RTF). Only the label will change. "Expert Care" will be removed from the label.
- Mead Johnson introduces Puramino Toddler, new WIC-Eligible Nutritional product.
- Enfamil Premature Low-Iron Infant RTF formula in 24 Cal and 20 Cal (2 oz RTU 6 packs) were discontinued in December 2015 (only the low-iron versions).
- Abbott introduces NON-GMO Similac product options (Similac Sensitive, Advance, Go & Grow). These are not WIC approved options.
- Minor updates/clarifications to the Similac line of products.
- Enfagrow Next Step RTF products package sizes changed.
- Nutricia North America to discontinue products and introduced new metabolic products (See October 2015 changes below). Reconstituted amounts updated for a variety of these metabolic products.

October 2015

- New contract soy infant formula added, Gerber Good Start Soy.
- Enfamil ProSobee no longer contract brand, changed to an unapproved formula for Idaho WIC.
- Nestle HealthCare Nutrition, Inc. introduces Alfamino Infant (Idaho WIC approved).
- Nestle HealthCare Nutrition, Inc. introduces Alfamino Junior (Idaho WIC approved).
- Added Similac Go & Grow Sensitive Stage 3 – Milk Based Formula (Not Idaho WIC approved).
- PediaSure clear will be discontinued (Start to phase out March 2015).
- PediaSure/Sidekicks will have a minor label/color change. There are no nutritional changes to the product.
- Added Nutricia North America PhenylAde GMP (Idaho WIC approved).
- Nestle HealthCare Nutrition, Inc. introduces Gerber Extensive HA (Idaho WIC approved).
- Neocate E028 Splash and Neocate Splash Unflavored products separated.
- Enfamil infant, Gentlease and Nutramigen (Only Nutramigen is Idaho WIC approved) will change their 32 fl. oz can RTF product to a plastic bottle. There are no changes to the formulation.
- Nutramigen with Enflora LGG Toddler was reformulated; fructose will be removed starting November 2015.
- Portagen will change in can size to 14.4 oz (64 fl oz reconstitution) November 2015.
- Enfagrow Toddler Transitions 32 oz RTF will be discontinued November 30, 2015.
- EnfaCare will have a reformulation that includes a change to the whey:casein ratio, increased vitamin D, and aligns the nutrient profiles of the powder and liquid formulations.
- Nutricia North America announces several new metabolic products.

NOTE: For infants, Anamix Early Years will replace the Analog products by 2016. Periflex Early Years will replace Periflex Infant by 2016.

- |                           |                             |
|---------------------------|-----------------------------|
| • MSUD Anamix Early Years | • MMA-PA Anamix Early Years |
| • HCU Anamix Early Years  | • GA1 Anamix Early Years    |
| • IVA Anamix Early Years  | • TYR Anamix Early Years    |
| • SOD Anamix Early Years  | • PKU Periflex Early Years  |

Other New Products (Children only- New products, not replacing other products):

- HCU Anamix Next
- IVA Anamix Next
- MMA/PA Anamix Next

February 2015

- Isosource 1.5 Cal product updated (Not ID WIC Approved).

- New label color for ProSobee from blue to green.
- New label color for Enfagrow Toddler Transitions Soy from blue to green (Not ID WIC Approved).
- Enfagrow Toddler Transitions powders can size change from 21 oz to 20 oz (Not ID WIC Approved).
- Gerber Good Start Nourish is discontinued.
- Polycal introduced.
- New flavors of the PKU Periflex Jr Plus added, new flavors include Orange, Berry and Vanilla.
- Wal-Mart exclusive Enfamil formula RTF 4-pack is discontinued. Will change to a 6 pack (ProSobee is the only ID WIC approved formula impacted).
- Sections separated in the Formula Handbook Folder on the WIC Website instead of one large document.
- New table format created for federal regulations including supplemental exempt formula for partially breastfed infants table derived from federal table 1.
- Policy Reminders updated.
- Calculation and Examples updated.

October 2014

- The term WIC-eligible “nutritionals” will replace the term “medical foods” for WIC. The definition of the term remains unchanged, formula companies may still use the term medical food.
- Federal Regulation tables for Maximum Monthly Allowance and Full Nutrition Benefit updated.
- Added guidance to forms MDF and DB.
- Updated policy reminders section to reflect new Food Rule regulations.
- CoramRX has transitioned to CVS Caremark Specialty Pharmacy.
- Nutricia introduces TYR Anamix Next, a nutritional for children over 1 year of age. Nutrition for Tyrosinemia.
- MetaGenes introduces KetoVolve a product previously by Solace Nutrition for ages 1-8 years old with intractable epilepsy.
- Enfamil Enfaport will transition from 8 oz. to 6 oz. bottles.
- Change postponed for Neocate E028 Splash reformulation and discontinuation of tropical flavor.
- Neocate Splash unflavored option with formulation changes available July 2014.
- XPHE Maxamum Drink is now called Periflex LQ. No change to formulation, only name and flavors.
- Periflex Junior was updated to PKU Periflex Junior Plus with reformulation.
- Puramino is reformulated to add 33% more MCT oil.

February 2014

- Mead Johnson introduces Enfamil Reguline infant formula.
- Carnation Instant Breakfast Essential RTD reformulated and new flavor.
- CoramRx is an Apria healthcare Company now handling medical foods and formula.
- Neocate Jr. with Prebiotics has a new strawberry flavor.
- Neocate E028 Splash will now be Neocate Splash. Flavors and formulation changes have occurred to this product.
- Similac Sensitive, Spit-up, Total Comfort will change to 19 kcal/ fl oz. and no longer meet USDA definition for standard formula.
- Can size change for Similac Sensitive, Spit-up, Total Comfort to 12 oz cans.
- Similac Advance will have 3 stages. Similac Advance stage 1(birth-12 months) is the current product eligible for WIC/standard milk based formula. Stage 2 (6-12 months) is a new formula and Stage 3 (12-24 months) is currently the Go and Grow milk based product.
- New Optigro symbol replaces early shield on Similac products.
- Enfamil Lipil will be renamed Enfamil 24.
- ProSobee reconstituted amount changed from 92 to 93 fl oz.
- Premium removed from Enfamil Newborn and Enfamil Infant.
- Enfamil graphics change to all products.
- Enfamil for supplementing introduced (not WIC approved).
- Similac for supplementation introduced (not WIC approved).
- Ketocal 4:1 powder was reformulated.
- Polycoase is discontinued.
- Acerflex is discontinued.

August 2013

- Nutramigen AA is now PurAmino.
- Nutramigen LIPIIL is Nutramigen.
- Similac Care Advance 20/24 w/ iron is now Similac Special Care 20/24 w/ iron.
- Neocate is now only Neocate infant w/ DHA and ARA.
- KetoCal 4:1 LQ has an unflavored option.
- Neocate Junior and Neocate Nutra can labels will reflect the minor change of 14 oz can to 14.1 oz can.
- Enfamil Premature 20 and Nutramigen Toddler w/ Enflora LGG have been added to the exempt list.
- No longer Optimental, now only Vital products.
- CIB juice drink is unavailable.
- The Enfamil and Similac HMF have been removed from the Exempt list, these are not Idaho WIC approved, but are WIC approved. May be considered on a case by case basis.
- Similac Total Comfort has been added to the product guide, but continues to be a non-contract formula not Idaho WIC Approved.
- Beginning in June Elecare will be available on the self at select Wal-Mart stores; the following website allows you to search your local vendor <http://elecare.com/how-to-buy-elecare>.